Rule 3772-11-04 Minimum and maximum table game wagers.

Effective: May 2, 2022

(A) All minimum and maximum wagers must be posted at each table and may be changed between games by posting new table limits.

(B) If the minimum or maximum wager is changed, the sign must be changed to reflect the new amount. A casino operator may allow the following bets during a table limit change:

(1) Patrons who were playing when minimum table limits were raised may continue to place bets under the old table minimum limit; and

(2) Patrons who were playing when a maximum table limit was lowered may be allowed to continue placing bets under the previous table maximum bet.

(C) Payment on wagers that cannot be made evenly must be rounded up to the next chip denomination.

(D) A patron may aggregate current bets to satisfy a table game minimum unless the casino posts that aggregation is not permitted.

(E) Unless otherwise approved by the executive director, casino operators must not accept wagers from anyone other than an individual wagering from a recognized table position.
