Each classification title listed in this rule shall have a corresponding classification specification that sets forth the class concept and minimum qualifications. The class concept shall set forth the mandatory duties that must be satisfied at least twenty per cent of the time, unless otherwise stated in the class concept.

For the purpose of classifying positions and making job audit decisions only, wherever the word "supervises" appears in a classification specification for any class title in this rule, it means that an employee assigns and reviews work, completes employee performance evaluation forms, recommends or authorizes leave and recommends or initiates disciplinary action for at least two full-time permanent civil service employees or the equivalent.

The minimum qualifications must be satisfied when an applicant is to be hired and when an employee is to be promoted or reassigned.

If new or revised minimum qualifications are enacted as a result of a change in an applicable state or federal statute, the legislated minimum qualifications shall supersede those listed in the classification specification on file with the secretary of state, until such time the classification specification can be revised to agree with the change in statute.

Until such time all classification specifications can be revised, the phrase "Or alternative equivalent evidence of the major worker characteristics noted above", which appears in the minimum qualifications for employment portion of a classification specification, shall be interpreted as "Or equivalent of Minimum Class Qualifications For Employment noted above".

Whenever the department of human services and the Ohio bureau of employment services are referred to in a classification specification, the reference shall be deemed to refer to the department of job and family services until such time all pertinent classification specifications can be revised.

Whenever the department of mental retardation and developmental disabilities is referred to in a classification specification, the reference shall be deemed to refer to the department of developmental disabilities until such time all pertinent classification specifications can be revised.
