

Ohio Revised Code

Section 1313.09 Application by trustee for release of surety - hearing.

Effective: October 1, 1953

Legislation: House Bill 1

An assignee or trustee for the benefit of creditors at any time may make application to the probate court for the release of his sureties, by filing his written request with the judge of such court, and giving at least five days' notice, in writing, to such sureties. If, upon the hearing, the court is of opinion that there is good reason to release said sureties it shall order said assignee or trustee to file an account, as provided by law, and said sureties shall be released upon said assignee or trustee filing a new bond and its approval by the court.
