

Ohio Revised Code

Section 3701.614 Educational materials regarding health risks of lead-based paint.

Effective: September 18, 2020

Legislation: House Bill 11 - 133rd General Assembly

(A) The department of health shall develop educational materials describing the health risks of lead-based paint and measures that may be taken to reduce those risks.

(B) As part of the home visiting services described in section 3701.61 of the Revised Code, each eligible family residing in a house, apartment, or other residence built before January 1, 1979, shall receive a copy of the educational materials described in this section. If the date on which the residence was built is unknown to the family or home visiting services provider, the family shall receive a copy of the educational materials.

(C) The educational materials developed and distributed under this section shall be culturally and linguistically appropriate for the families described in division (B) of this section.
